The reasons people want to work at Logisticorp is not an accident.

Our new team members quickly learn that the Logisticorp culture rewards people who are dependable and take initiative – people who go the extra mile and people who find ways to contribute beyond their basic responsibilities.

That culture hasn't changed and is being nurtured in many ways to be stronger and healthier. Today, Logisticorp is growing and our team members have an opportunity every day to grow and be rewarded also.

We challenge all new team members to dream about what they can become with the right opportunity – and to dream big. We challenge them to work hard to build skills, strength, persistence and a positive attitude in the face of challenges, because those are the attributes they will need when presented with greater opportunities – and with those opportunities, greater rewards.

At Logisticorp, everyone's role is important. Everyone's contribution is important. Everyone has a success story that is waiting to be written.

This type of culture is not an accident. It's intentional and on purpose. It is embraced, modeled and demonstrated by leadership from the top. It's leadership by example.

Top 10 Reasons Why People Work for Logisticorp

- 10 Job security and fair compensation.

Money is usually not the primary factor influencing the selection of a job. But when fairness in compensation is combined with genuine appreciation for all team members and a commitment to help them grow and increase the value of their contributions, it makes a big difference. That means you can focus on great work and contributing to growth!
- 9 Commitment to a high-performance work environment.

High Performers are innovators, influencers, game changers and act like owners. They offer help and mentor others. They step up when needed without being asked. The impact creates new ideas, improved client satisfaction, a culture of innovation, a great place to work and the list goes on. If you're a high performer, you'll be in good company!
- 8 Our personal contributions make a difference.

We understand that when employees are part of something special, they're challenged to contribute and deliver their best effort. And we've gone further to create personal bonuses based on an individual's performance – regardless of the performance of your team or the company.
- 7 Being part of something special.

Yep, you read that right. We're doing something special and our internal culture is huge to us. We know that being part of "something special" must be deeper than just "company culture" or "social give-back programs" which are so popular. Our commitment to doing something special is to impact positively the lives of our customers and our team members, as well as their families.
- 6 Recognition, rewards and respect.

Lots of companies have a core value related to "respect for all people." However, our commitment to recognition and respect is based on our beliefs and convictions. Our leadership regularly demonstrates recognition for team members' great work and contributions at all levels of the company – and we reward those contributions.
- 5 Encouragement to achieve full potential.

We're at work building the company and we're working on the growth path and opportunities that give you a long-term seat on the bus. This means having vision and persistent encouragement to get better. It's also career development that keeps you getting better – and more valuable!
- 4 Our work has real purpose and meaning.

We are committed to doing good for our Customers, our Community, our Colleagues and our Company. We believe everyone has unique talents and wants to excel and succeed by doing work that has purpose and meaning. So, we're also looking for new team members who want to do work that changes and influences lives for the better.
- 3 Co-workers who are gifted, talented and like family.

Companies with great employees are almost always surrounded by other gifted and talented co-workers. Their energy, creativity and enthusiasm feed off one another. They challenge each other to get better and more innovative. Friendships are a by-product of working toward common goals with people you trust – and are likable. ☺
- 2 Trust in leadership.

A company's culture is really a reflection of the leadership. Great employees stay because they trust that leadership has their back. They trust that leadership will make the best decisions for the company. Our leaders are committed to helping all of us win!
- 1 We love what we do.

We deeply and truly believe in the work of OUR company and how we impact lives. If the passion you have intersects with the vision and mission of the company where you work, it makes what the company stands for worth protecting and fighting for. We love what we do,

For Team Members in Driving Positions at Logisticorp,

Most of Logisticorp's driving jobs are not just all-the-time, behind-the-wheel driving positions. There are physical material handling and delivery responsibilities with professional customer interaction. The customers are large corporate enterprise organizations which makes these positions different from straight driving jobs.

Also, because Logisticorp has multiple operating locations and customers, there's opportunity to be cross-trained in multiple areas or assignments.

At the end of the day, there's significantly better training and long-term career opportunities in a large logistics company like Logisticorp compared to companies that simply hire drivers and where hours and jobs fluctuate based on season and demand.
